

Samuel

Argumentative writing is a form of writing where you have normally 2(or more) sides of an argument going against ____ other and trying to prove the opposite side ____ and win the argument, using information and evidence found by them regarding the topic. There are 2 formats of _____ writing

- Toulmin
- Rogerian

Matthew

Incorporating Evidence for Argumentative Writing

When incorporating evidence there are steps you must follow while doing so

1. Make sure it's _____ to your claim
2. Make sure it's benefiting your claim and not the _____ arguments claim
3. Make sure you can back up your argument with solid evidence
4. Always relate your evidence back to _____ claim

Incorporating Evidence for Argumentative Writing

Solomon

Examples of Good and Bad Argumentative Writing

"Adding school days will only make a child's life more ____." This is an ____ statement based off their opinion and they have no _____ that supports that statement. A key tip to avoid any sort of bias when argumentative writing is to avoid _____ - _____ words that describe things. Words like " _____", " _____", " _____", and " _____."